Jammers box - what is this thing?

2020/06/12

Hello Hugo! Nice question you have asked here! Jammers box is the widespread name which is used to describe many different things regarding jammers and their parts. The most common usage of this name is to describe the Cigarette Case Jammer which is contained in the box of cigarettes. We have stopped manufacturing it now because of possible issues and not very big popularity of this product. Another usage of this term is to describe the case of any particular jammer, be it portable or desktop model, or to describe the jammer in the case or box, which is commonly called jammer kit. And of course the name jammers box may be also implemented in description of the huge outdoor jammer with extremely powerful output which is used for industrial purposes mostly. We hope that now you have the answer on your question, but if you will have some more of them, you can always come back here and ask.
